THE MINUET DANCER.

So, my enchantress in the flowered brocade,
You call an elder fashion to your aid,
Step forth from Gainsborough's canvas and advance
A powdered Galatea, to the dance

About you clings a faded, old world air,
As though the link boys crowded round your chair,
As though the Macaronis thronged the Mall,
And the French horns were sounding at Vaux hall

They tread the stately measure to its close,
The silver buckles and the silken hose,
Ladies and exquisites that bend and sway,
Brilliant as poppies on an August day.

You dance the minuet, and we admire,
We dullards in our black and white attire,
Whose russet idyl seems a mere burlesque,
Set in a frame so far less picturesque

Yet I take heart, for Love, the coatless rogue,
Can scarcely heed what raiment be in vogue,
Since in good sooth his negligence is known
As something scandalous anent his own

And so he whispers Eyes were bright and brown
Long ere the powder tax dismayed the town
And faithful shepherds still shall babble on,
Although the rapiers and the frills be gone
—Alfred Cochrane in Spectator

PRANKS OF SCOTTISH FAIRIES

A Firm Belief In the "Fair Folk" Still Lingers.

There still lingers a widespread belief in the north of Scotland that the "fair folk," or "gweed neebors," as the fairies are called, still live in the hills, and during the first days of convalescence a mother must be zealously guarded lest one of the "wee people" come and rob the child of its nourishment Sometimes they succeed in carrying off the mother Here is one of the superstitious legends

A north country fisher had a fine child One evening a beggar woman entered the hut and went up to the cradle to gaze into the eyes of the babe From that time good health left it, and a strange look came into its face, and the mother was troubled An old man begging for food passed that way When he caught sight of the child, he cried

"That's nae a bairn It's an image, and the gweed folk hs stoun his speerit"

Thereupon he set to work to recall the fisher's bairn A peat fire was heaped high on the hearth and a black hen held over it at such a distance that it was singed and not killed After some struggling the hen escaped up the lum A few moments elapsed, and then the parents were gladdened by the sight of a happy expression once more on the child's face It throve from that day forward —Scottish Review.

A SUNBEAM BROKE A BANK

The Faro Dealer Thought Its End Was a White Check

"That piece in your paper 'bout the guy that cleaned up the faro banks out in Seattle' mused Bottam High, the Chicago gambler, as he told the waiter to 'bring or three for a half,' "ain't in it with my personal experience This was out in Cripple Creek when the boom was way up an a good play agin a night bank, see, was worth more to the banker than a split in the best claim you could git if they broke even Do you know Eatem Up Jake? That wasn't his name of course, but the gang give him the handle 'cause he could chew so fast see? Well, Eatem Up got hold of a piece of money in Chicago—he won out a roll off a short money, see, an he goes off to Cripple Creek an starts to dealin De lay out was in a little frame, pine board joint 'bout's big's a dry goods box Jake gets a good play, you know—took a minute to settle after every turn, see? But I didn't tell you 'bout the knothole You see, there's a knothole in a board right back of the dealer Jake, he's in the lookout chair, see? Jake don't have no clock there, see, so nobody minds the daylight, only it makes the dealer a little sleepy, an Jake, he's kinda dopy

"Well there's a tin horn from over in another joint—a plugger in the stud game, see? He blows in an buys two red checks, waits fer cases, fergits the copper one play in gets whipsawed, see—loses both bets Then he buys half a stack of whites an keeps the seat, playing mostly cases He keeps his checks in his hands, an Jake don't keep cases on him Well, he goes broke, but Jake doesn't know it

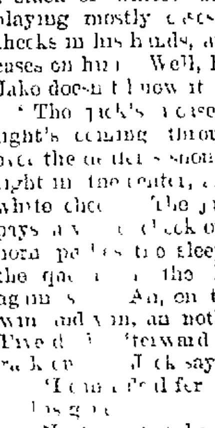

"The jack's a case, see an the sunlight's coming through the knothole over the dealer's shoulder, hits the jack right in the center, an it looks like a white check The jack wins Dealer pays a white check on the jack Tin horn pa... the sleeper over between the que... the king an it wins agin ... An, on the level, the guy win and win, an nothin can stop him ... afterward he has the check ... Jack says

'I ... fer you no more Me ...

... the Jake in the poker ... tell him how it happened, an ...

Well, ... what you think of that? Wouldn't ... you? I've heerd of guys winning out de bank roll off'n cat money, but I never heard of winning out on a ...'"—Elmira Telegram.

SENATOR TILLMAN'S IDEA.

A prominent Democrat of South Carolina suggested to Senator Tillman that the Democracy of that State ignore the Chicago convention and send its delegates to the St. Louis convention. In reply to this, Senator Tillman said:

"We are the State Democracy and we must go to Chicago prepared to bolt if need be and ally ourselves with the free silver men of the West. It would be a fatal blunder not to send delegates to the National Democratic Convention and would only be putting it in the hands of our gold-bug enemies. If the National Convention does not adopt a platform to suit us and put a man on it above suspicion as to his loyalty, we can then leave the party, but not before. The effort of every true friend of silver and financial reform should be directed to having our State Democratic committee composed solidly of men of our way of thinking, so as to have it act as a unit."

Is the course which Senator Tillman has mapped out the correct one for those who believe in free coinage and have not yet severed their connection with the old parties, to follow? Is a Nevada Republican or Democrat who sincerely believes in the restoration of silver and has determined to bolt if his party does not declare for free coinage, justifiable in participating in the primaries and conventions of his party? That is a question the writer has asked several individuals, men who have taken an active part in the politics of this State for years. One answers "Yes," as the individual has the right to be heard in determining the policy of the party with which he has affiliated, and a majority of those who shape its policy may think as he does. If, however, he finds that the majority is at variance with his views, he not only has the right, but it is his duty to leave the party. Another says "No," for the man who is conscientiously in favor of free coinage should not attend the conventions of those parties, as both organizations are controlled by the gold combination. The true friend of silver should not in any way encourage the Republicans or Democrats, but should use all his efforts in promoting harmony among those whose delegates will meet in St. Louis on July 22d. The two conventions which meet in that city on that day, if the delegates are true to their pledges, will nominate for President a man whose loyalty to the cause of financial reform cannot be doubted, and to secure that end should be the aim of every true silver man. All agree, however, that men like Senator Tillman may do good in Republican and Democratic conventions, and if a majority of the delegates are as independent as he, the next President will be unequivocally pledged to coin silver equally free with gold.

HOW THEY VOTED ON THE SILVER BILL.

The House of Representatives in Committee of the Whole defeated the motion to concur in the Senate Substitute for the Bond bill by a vote of 190 to 80, a majority of 110 against the Silver amendment. In the House on Friday when the ayes and nays were called on the bill, the vote stood 215 to 90, a majority of 125 against it. This was a record-making vote and 305 members are recorded for or against free coinage. Out of the 356 members comprising the House of Representatives only 37 are unaccounted for. The others voted or were paired for or against the bill. An analysis of the vote shows that 134 Republicans and 31 Democrats voted against the bill, and 58 Democrats, 25 Republicans and 7 Populists and Silver men voted for it.

The Substitute for the Bond bill, it should be understood, provides for the free coinage of silver and the issuance of silver certificates for the $53,000,000 seigniorage to relieve the present money stringency. The Bond bill passed by the House, for which this Silver bill was a substitute, provided for the issuance of more bonds. The Silver bill received only 25 Republican votes out of 244 Republican votes in the House. What further proof is necessary to convince any rational human being that the Republican party is unalterably opposed to silver? In the face of such positive evidence to the contrary, how can any intelligent person in the State of Nevada, who believes that the restoration of silver would make the State prosperous, support the Republican party? Why should the mine owner, who has to abandon his property; the mill owner, whose machinery is rusting from disuse; the farmer, who has to sell his products, if he sells them at all, below the cost of production; the mechanic and laborer out of employment; in short, why should any citizen of Nevada who desires better times vote for a party whose vote on a measure that would benefit the State and Nation, and obviate the necessity of issuing bonds, or in any way countenance it?

FACTS FOR OUR NEIGHBOR.

Our contemporary says the JOURNAL does not confine itself to the question. Conceding that it is right for once the JOURNAL asks: Is it not a fact that the Gazette, while professing to be a simon pure Republican paper, supported Senator Stewart for re-election in 1892? Is it not also a fact that it opposed the election of J. F. Emmitt, S. A. Hamlin, D. C. Wheeler and T. G. Herman, the regular Republican candidates for membert of the Legislature? Is it not fact that it did so in the interest of Senator Stewart, who it says voted for the demonetization act of 1873 with his eyes open? Is it not a fact that it opposed William Woodburn, the regular Republican nominee for Congress, in the interest of the silver candidate? Is it not a fact that having done as stated the Gazette has no definite political opinions and is liable to sell out the party it professes to affiliate with at any time? If it thinks the JOURNAL does not confine itself to the question in stating the above facts it will be alone in its thoughts.

THEORIES REGARDING NANSEN.

The Fram May Have Drifted Around to the North Pole.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The latest advices say that the first news of Nansen's safety was sent by Kandaroff, a local Russian official in the Yakutsk region, who was a member of the Siberian Koffs expedition. Dr. Nordenskiold, who is in Christiania, is inclined to believe the news of Nansen's safety at any rate, even if it is not true that he succeeded in discovering the North pole. According to the opinion of the Arctic experts here, when the Fram left the Kara Sea in 1893, she may have found a sea northwards, free of ice, and pushed on until locked in. She may then have been allowed to drift until the expedition came to land around the pole, and Nansen and party may have returned in sleighs to the Siberian islands.

Bounty on Coyote Scalps.

SACRAMENTO, February 15.—At a meeting of the State Board of Examiners a large claim was received from the Farmers' Exchange Bank of San Bernardino. The claim constituted a large number of assigned claims for bounty for coyote scalps. It was not allowed. Governor Budd said that so far as he was concerned the parties would have to sue for the money. A bill was also received for the rock crushing plant recently set up at Folsom by the State. The Governor said he would not vote to pay it until he was satisfied that there would not be a deficiency claim.

A Vagrant Count

IRONWOOD, Mich., Feb. 15.—Ironwood has a genuine Russian Count at work shoveling snow off the streets. His name is Count Polinski. He was obliged to leave his country to escape punishment for conspiracy against the Government. The Count was arrested for vagrancy and sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment.

A Steamer Disabled.

NEW YORK, February 15.—The White Star steamer Germanic, which arrived to-day, reported that on February 13th, in latitude 41:14, longitude 61:24, she was in company with the British steamer Galileo, bound from Hull for Boston, having in tow the steamer Oceanic with one of her shafts broken.

A Newspaper Woman Dies.

NEW ORLEANS, La., February 15.—Mrs. Eliza J. Nicholson, proprietress of the Picayune, died at 2:40 this morning from grippe. When her husband died a week ago the event shattered her system and her disease developed into congestion of the lungs.

Death of a Prominent Man

ST. LOUIS, February 15.—A. W. Fagan, prominently identified with the business and general growth of the city for more than half a century, died this morning, aged 84. Fagan was one of the wealthiest men in the city.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES

It is now thought probable that the Fitzsimmons-Maher prizefight will take place next Friday.

The store of N. B. Brassius at Redding, California, was entered by burglars and robbed of $125 worth of goods.

Four men were killed in a mine at Republic, Michigan, yesterday. They were ascending in a skip which jumped the track.

It is asserted that the steamer Willipa which left Port Townsend, Washington, yesterday for Alaska had 1,000 gallons of smuggled whisky aboard.

The postoffice at Volcano, California, was robbed yesterday morning of $270 by two masked men, who entered the house and demanded the money.

The British Consul at Archangel, the northermost town in European Russia, telegraphs that Nansen is safe and returning from the North Pole.

A. W. Fagan, one of the wealthiest men of St. Louis, Missouri, and prominently identified with the growth of that city, died yesterday, aged 84 years.

John A. Anderson, the burglar killed at the residence of J. L. Franklin, San Francisco, was identified at the Morgue as the murderer of Alfred J. Neville in a grocery store last November.

Lord Dunraven has apologized to the New York Yacht Club and thanks the club for the courtesy shown him during the inquiry into his charges against the Defender. So there will be no war on that account.

Joe Welch, a barkeeper, was shot and fatally wounded at Sacramento yesterday by W. M. Johnson, the "Kansas Kid," an expert faro dealer. The men had been up all night and drinking heavily. They quarreled and Johnson fired three shots which struck Welch and one which hit a bystander.

Mrs. Mary A. Davidson, accused of extorting $500 from Rev. C. O. Brown, was formally arraigned in Judge Bahrs' Court, San Francisco, yesterday. Counsel for defendant moved to dismiss the information and the motion was taken under advisement until next Friday.

An explosion of gasoline in a Pullman car at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, demolished the interior of the car and damaged two other cars, seriously injuring Mrs. Lena Foss, Sadie Conroy and the porter. The women were cleaning the carpets in the car and the gas ignited from the stove, causing the explosion.

The case of Jesse Hunter against his wife is one of the most interesting that has come up in the Los Angeles courts. After living with her for many years he discovered that her first husband was living and that she had not been divorced. Hunter declined to live with her and she brought suit for divorce, which was determined in her favor. Now Hunter has brought suit against her to have two certain deeds for property, valued at $50,000 declared void. He alleges that in 1878 he was persuaded by his wife to deed all his property to her. After the divorce, Hunter claims to have given the woman a second deed, with the understanding that the first one was cancelled, and he asserts she is now trying to claim his property under the first deed, and by so doing nullifying the consideration in the second deed.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

S. Summerfield returned from California two or three days ago, but has been confined to his home by illness until yesterday, when he appeared on the streets.

It is reported that the much talked of bond of Ben Pierce is no good from the fact that it was not properly prepared. Suit will probably be commenced, however, for its collection.

A. T. Dormio opened his place opposite the depot last evening with a general house-warming. A large crowd of his friends were present and the festivities were kept up until a late hour.

A special train arrived from Carson a little after seven o'clock last evening, bringing a party of whist players, who were entertained at the Nevada Club. The excursionists returned home shortly after midnight.

A lady's watch and fob was lost a day or two ago and was advertised for in yesterday morning's JOURNAL. In the afternoon the watch and fob were returned to this office and the owner can have the same by calling for them.

MALICIOUS HOODLUMS.

They Frighten Women, Steal and Break into Residences

The young hoodlums in town were on the rampage Friday night, and from reports, doubtless committed a number of depredations, and if sufficient evidence can be procured, they will be sent to the county jail for some time and possibly to the Carson penitentiary. At the residence of W. D. Phillips a social evening was in progress, at which a number of young folks were in attendance. The hoodlums made themselves so obnoxious that Mrs. Phillips was compelled to remonstrate with them, but was met with jeers and laughter. She was finally compelled to send for officers to protect her household and the guests of her daughters from insult. But even while waiting for the officers a window in the rear of the house was forced and a quantity of edibles were stolen. These scamps kept the whole neighborhood in that part of town in commotion for an hour or two.

At S. K. Barber's residence the cellar was broken open at an early hour in the evening and two hams, a shoulder and other provisions were taken, presumably by the same gang.

At another residence a gang of whelps went up on the front porch of the house, jerked the window blinds open, threw sand and mud at the windows and frightened the lady occupants of the house.

During last Summer this same gang or some of the leaders, with a few recruits, committed a number of depredations of this same character, yet no complaints were made and the hoodlums keep up their hurrahs. At a wedding that occurred in town last Fall, it became necessary for the parties concerned to ask the services of an officer during the evening to protect the guests and the couple from the insults of those young scoundrels.

These performances are getting monotonous, and if kept up, some boy or a number of them will get badly hurt. Furthermore, if the parents of some of them who are known don't look after the doings of their hopefuls, their names as well as the smart youths will be published, and the law will be invoked to the very extremity to protect law-abiding people from these outrages.

TRILBY.

The Greatest Success on the Stage Wednesday Evening.

Trilby, the most popular success of the country will get its first presentation here Wednesday evening at the Opera House. In dramitizing Du-Maurier's great novel, Paul M. Potter instead of losing any of the interest or intrinsic value of the work, has added largely to the potent features of the novel. The action opens in the studio of the "three musketeers of the brush" at a time when Trilby has become thoroughly at home as one of the household of the three artist friends and has won a loving place in the heart of each.

In the second act high carnival prevails in the studio over the joint occasions of Christmas eve and the announcement of the engagement of Trilby and Little Billee. In the next act, and supposedly after a lapse of five years, the principal characters meet in the foyer of a music Hall where a new singer's appearance is announced. The singer proves to be Trilby, but under the mesmeric influence of Svengali, she fails to recognize her quondom friends. In the last act she lapses into an apparent hypnotic condition, and gazing at a picture of Svengali, so dies.

The play is beautifully staged and mounted and charmingly acted by A. M. Palmer's company. The production is under the direction of Wm. Brady.

District Court.

In the District Court yesterday H. J. Allen was granted a divorce from Mattie I. Allen on the ground of desertion, plaintiff being awarded the custody of the children.

The Grand Jury was ordered to assemble at the Court House on Wednesday, the 26th day of February.

A venire was issued for a trial jury, returnable on the 9th day of March.

The calendar was called and cases set for trial on the following dates:

Jordan Valley Stock Company vs. H. J. Pratt, March 12.

Merra and Perazzo vs. S. O. Wells, March 9.

Henry Orr vs. P. McCarran, March 9

C. Columbo vs. George Russell et al, March 10.

J. N. Evans vs. N-C-O. Railroad Co, March 11.

P. N. Marker vs. J. Merrill, March 12.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

M. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail, and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use, and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Should Have Been Added.

The names of Vesta and Gladys Rosenthal were unintentionally omitted from the roll of honor for last month. They should have appeared in the list of names from Miss Henry's department.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Items of Interest From Here, There and Everywhere.

There are nearly 16,000,000 children in schools in the United States. Nearly 14,000,000 in the public schools and about 409,000 teachers.

At the last meeting of the Commissioners of Nye county $1,092 20 in script was presented for payment and redeemed for $1,010 36.

The Courier says: There is an epidemic of sore eyes in this valley and Mason and Smith valleys. It is said to be "Pink Eye." A great many children have been unable to attend school on East Fork on account of it.

George Taylor, a miner employed at the Morning Star mine, met with a distressing accident at that mine last Thursday. The Central Nevadan says while at work in the mine the platform that he was standing on gave way and he fell some 18 feet, and in falling came in contact with a scraper that is used for cleaning out holes after they have been drilled, the same penetrating the lower part of his bowels and came near going through his body. He was brought to Battle Mountain and is doing as well as could be expected.

One of the many natural wonders of Arizona scenery just made accessible by the opening of a new rail and stage roads is a remarkable natural bridge in the Tonto Basin, not far from Flagstaff. The bridge is 550 feet long, and spans a canyon some 200 feet deep, at the bottom of which flows the river. The bridge is of rock, and is perfectly proportioned. The under side is gracefully arched, and the upper perfectly level. The walls of the canyon are honeycombed with caves, in which are a great drofusion of stalactites and stalagmites.

Justice Court

The civil case of Farley vs. Ryland will be decided next Monday.

Three Chinamen and one of the frail white sisters were arrested yesterday, the first for conducting opium joints and the woman for being found in one of them smoking opium. The woman was fined $12 and the Chinamen held for trial. A white man was also arrested in one of the places and given several hours to appear, in the hope that he would skip.

A Whist Party.

The Nevada Club received a number of invited guests from Carson last evening. Whist was the order, the ladies of the party being entertained by the Ladies' Whist Club at the residence of Mrs. R. L. Fulton and the gentlemen holding forth at the club house. At a late hour substantial refreshments were served for all at the club rooms and the evening was pleasantly spent and the visitors royally entertained.

Greenlaw-Hatley.

A quiet wedding took place at the Episcopal parsonage last evening. The contracting parties were Mr. L. S. Greenlaw and Mrs. Hatley. Rev. S. Unsworth officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw are both well known in Reno and their many friends will wish them happiness and prosperity in their new venture. The JOURNAL extends congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw took the evening train for San Francisco.

The Waldemar Society.

The Waldemar Society held their regular meeting last evening. After the usual business had been concluded a number of the Danish ladies knocked at the doors of the lodge-room and were admitted. The evening was then devoted to music and dancing. At 12 o'clock a nice supper was served by the ladies, they having prepared accordingly.

The Boston Definition.

"Mamma," asked the little Boston boy, "what is the meaning of 'rounding up' cattle?" "It is a Western vulgarism," the mother explained, "used in relation to the process of giving the bovine quadrupeds a more rotund appearance by supplying them with nutriment whereby they are enabled to quickly accumulate an amount of adipose tissue."

BREVITIES.

A telegram received from Governor Jones yesterday says that he is still improving and his full recovery is looked forward to at an early day.

The University and North Truckee baseball teams tried conclusions yesterday afternoon. The University team was too much for the country boys and at the eighth inning the latter squawked. The score stood, University 53, North Truckee 11.

P. T. Stevens and F. S. Rockwell, Eastern cattle buyers, arrived from the north last evening and left for the west. It is reported that they have purchased 5,000 cattle for the Eastern market, part of which will be shipped in March and the balance in April.

The Young Ladies Turn Verein of Carson are proud of one of their former members, Mrs. Will Davis, now of Stockton, who discovered a burglar in her house the other night and nearly beat him to death with an Indian club, completely knocking him out.—News.

The Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House offers at special sale for one week, 64 dress patterns, consisting of 8 yard double wide woolen suitings, which are a portion of their new spring goods already, at $1 90 a suit. Out of town customers are requested to send for samples of these goods, as they are beyond any doubt the best value ever offered.

The following gentlemen were visitors from Carson last evening in attendance on the whist party: Governor Adams, Governor Colcord, Judge Murphy, B. H. McClure, Hume Yerington, E. S. Vanderleith, George Cagwin, W. D. Tobey, Judge Bigelow, T. D. Edwards, A. M. Ardery, James Yerington, Judge Belknap, E. Howell, Wm. Woodburn, Paris Ellis and R. M. Clarke. Quite a number of ladies from Carson were among the visitors.

Cure For Headache

As a remedy for all forms of headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Viavi.

Viavi is more of a food than a medicine. I should be glad to have those who do not understand its use, call and get a Health Book free and read the home testimonials. Viavi sales in 1895 exceeded those in 1894 by half a million dollars. MRS. B. E. HUNTER, Fourth Street.

A Reward.

A reward of $20 will be paid to anyone who will give information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who have desecrated the tombstones in the Jewish Cemetery by shooting at them.

or a crowd of people. Physicians did not do me any good; in fact, I seemed to be growing worse all the time until I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was soon better, and after taking 3 bottles, I was perfectly cured. My wife is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism, and it is doing her more good than all other medicine she has ever taken. She has been prostrated by rheumatism frequently for seven years, and the past year has been so that she could not turn over in bed without help. Now she can get around and do her work." J. P. Ponderous British Hat Boxes, Portmanteaus and Hold Alls—The Baggage on a Steamship Wharf Is a Study—The Traveler and His Bathtub.

As the traveling Briton is known in this country by his luggage, so the American woman was once hated in Europe because of her saratoga trunk The world has escaped the general adoption of the saratoga trunk, but a worse thing seems possible, as British luggage threatens to become international Even now you may buy in this town all the impedimenta with which the traveling Briton cumbers himself and Lerds is the rest of mankind A Brondway trunkmaker has for some [illegible] past undertaken to fix the thral dom of these things upon his fellow [illegible] men and women, and many [illegible] Americans, especially the [illegible] fashionable, are to be [illegible] by the multiplicity of British impedimenta that they carry to and fro in the different journeyings between [illegible] and the new More [illegible] clever and imitative Japanese have begun to produce British [illegible] identical with the original in [illegible] materials, even down to hand [illegible] straps or leather trunks, portmanteaus and the like, but, drolly [illegible], the whole outfit is merely a pa[illegible] counterfeit of the real thing

[illegible] imitators of things British, [illegible] the fine humor of the Japanese, [illegible] made no substitution of light material for heavy, but have taken on the [illegible] burden of ponderous British hat[illegible] portmanteaus, rugs bags, hold [illegible] and even bathtubs It was a traveling American who gave to the world an [illegible] of a refreshing scene on board [illegible] Mediterranean steamer bound to Tan[illegible] or some such Mohammedan port of [illegible] Africa A British passenger with [illegible] club had nearly pestered the life [illegible] out of a black coffee colored Moham[illegible] dan, who accepted the Briton's curses without a sign of reproach, but when in the course of getting the luggage [illegible] the precious bathtub fell overboard and sank like lead, the harmless [illegible] follower of the prophet was seen to [illegible] in his work and dance gleefully [illegible] the deck, exclaiming in triumph, "Oh Mr Goddam, Mr Goddam!" It is since that incident that traveled Americans in their aping of British [illegible] have accented even the burden of [illegible] bathtub.

A study of baggage at a steamship [illegible] or even at a large railway station [illegible] is an instructive lesson in the cosmopolitan character of the [illegible] The [illegible] article of British [illegible] that seldom survives more than [illegible] within the limits of the [illegible] and sometimes gets no [illegible] than the New York hotel [illegible] the traveler makes his first [illegible] article is the little trunk or [illegible] affected by much used by trav[illegible] Great Britain The flimsy trifle [illegible] the first encounter with [illegible] baggage handler, and [illegible] journey of 600 miles in [illegible] battered out of all re[illegible] original rectilinear self [illegible] luggage not suitable [illegible] conditions of American travel.

[illegible] future of the baggage at [illegible] that are doorways [illegible] the immigrant's luggage [illegible] distress from the [illegible] about the few belong[illegible] made American Again [illegible] of the Irish, English [illegible] it will be recalled [illegible] preliminary to Chir[illegible] Dickens's voyage out into the [illegible] Yorkshire home [illegible] of her box The corded [illegible] among the luggage of an American traveler is the old hair trunk, though both are occasionally seen The seaman's locker, rectilinear for a stable stowage and strong against accidents, figures in the luggage at steamship wharves One knows instinctively its contents of old clothes, photographs, curios, tobacco and long treasured letters from home and the array of pictures from the illustrated papers pasted on the inside of the lid

The elaborate dressing cases that some Americans and all well to do Englishmen used to travel with are going out of fashion It is almost a necessity that the traveler with this pretty piece of luggage take along a valet, for the thing weighs like so much lead and is too precious to be trusted to the tender mercies of the baggage department The traveling desk [illegible] is nearly disappeared, though some ingenious trunk makers now produce trunks that open so as to form desks The [illegible] hamper that used to accompany every traveler across this continent in the days before dining cars came into use has almost entirely disappeared The California millionaires of early transcontinental travel carried enormous richly laden hampers and dispensed often a princely hospitality to their fellow travelers The dinner hour on board a transcontinental train was a picturesque incident of travel in those days The traveling Briton in Europe still sometimes carries his luncheon hamper, and it is often one of the nuisances of European travel

Some of the English theatrical companies have become so used to traveling in America that they have adopted its methods with baggage They accoutre with grace the great American trunk dispense with the hatbox, the bathtub the rugs, shawl straps and the rest and calmly see their belongings carried off by a stranger, who leaves behind as [illegible] only a bit of brass bearing a few letters and numbers —New York [illegible]

A Genius for Farming

Miss Jeanne Dennis of Talbotton, Ga., is a fine looking young woman of 25 who seems to have a genius for farming According to a Georgia paper she owns a handsome estate of 1 000 [illegible] which she cultivates with great skill and success Upon it she conducts a dairy a stock farm, a nursery [illegible] serving establishment, a vinegar and wine distillery and a piggery Each of these is prosperous to a high degree The owner is prolific in printed prohibits her products at every fair exposition She began this work but a few years and in seven years has carried off nearly 100 prizes She ascribes her success to good education and careful reading She makes a special study of the application of science, particularly chemistry, to her fields of industry and utilizes every new idea which appears

MANHOOD RESTORED "CUPIDENE"

This great Vegetable Vitalizer, the prescription of a famous French physician, will quickly cure you of all nervous or diseases of the generative organs, such as Lost Manhood, Insomnia, Pains in the Back, Seminal Emissions, Nervous Debility, Pimples, Unfitness to Marry, Exhausting Drains, Varicocele and Constipation. It stops all losses by day or night. Prevents quickness of discharge, which if not checked leads to Spermatorrhœa and all the horrors of Impotency. CUPIDENE cleanses the liver, the kidneys and the urinary organs of all impurities.

BEFORE AND AFTER

CUPIDENE strengthens and restores small weak organs.

The reason sufferers are not cured by Doctors is because ninety per cent are troubled with Prostatitis. CUPIDENE is the only known remedy to cure without an operation. 5000 testimonials. A written guarantee given and money returned if six boxes does not effect a permanent cure. $1.00 a box, six for $5.00, by mail. Send for FREE circular and testimonials.

The Policemen Sleep on Their Beats—The Curfew Is of Ancient Use.

Probably the sleepiest policemen in the world are those of Madagascar. At Antananarivo, the capital, there is little evidence of the force by day, for its members are all peacefully wrapped in slumber. At night, too, the guardian of property is seldom to be seen, and that he is actually guarding is only to be told by the half hourly cry that is sent up to police post No. 1 alongside the royal palace.

"Watchman, what of the night?"

"We are wide awake, keeping a sharp lookout, and all's well."

Antananarivo has no lamps and no streets It is simply a great collection of houses tumbled together There is a big force of night police, known as the "watch" The men gather themselves together into groups, and choosing snug corners, wrapping themselves in straw mats, they drop into long and profound slumber One member of each group remains awake to respond to the half hourly call from the palace As he calls back, the others, half awake, mechanically shout back the response. It makes little difference, however, that the police continually sleep, for robbery is rare

Curfew, though popularly supposed to be purely an early English and Norman-French custom, has been established in Madagascar for centuries In every town and village between 9 and 10 the watchmen go around shouting out in the Malagasy dialect, "Lights out!" and they see that all is in darkness in every house. After these hours no one is allowed to travel around without a special pass

There is no criminal code of any account, and when a man is caught in the act of stealing the populace is apt to ignore the police and surround him and stone him to death The Madagascans have no "swear words" in their language, and when their feelings are overwrought against a man the only thing they can do is to execute summary vengeance on him —New York World.

PROTECTION from the grip, pneumonia, diphtheria, fever and epidemics is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes PURE BLOOD.
